

Christine Yasaitis

CHRISTINE YASAITIS
Vice President, Americas
Inmarsat Aviation

Inmarsat, 1441 L Street NW, Suite 610
Washington, DC 20005

M +1 646 468 1925

E christine.yasaitis@inmarsat.com

W inmarsat.com

Christine Yasaitis is the Vice President, Americas for Inmarsat Aviation leading market coverage for the region and providing Inmarsat's inflight Wi-Fi connectivity solutions to airlines. Previously she spent four years in executive search working in the Aviation, Aerospace and Defense Practices at both Heidrick & Struggles' and Russell Reynolds Associates' in New York providing executive search and leadership consulting services to U.S. and internationally-based aviation, aerospace and defense clients, as well as private equity clients engaged in industrial and aerospace sector investments.

Her earlier industry experience included five years at Flightglobal-Ascend, an aviation advisory firm, as head of sales responsible for client relationships across the aviation/aerospace supply chain from OEMs and airlines to banks, private equity funds, aircraft lessors, MROs, and defense entities. She started her career at British Airways where she spent nine years in a variety of commercial and operational roles.

Christine is a member of IAWA, ISTAT and the Wings Club. She has a bachelor's of arts in international relations from Brown University and earned a Joint Global MBA from Columbia Business School and the London Business School.