

35 Years of Global Outreach

As the industry evolves with worldwide economic and political change, women are assuming greater and more visible roles. Founded in 1988, IAWA cultivates and advances women leaders in the aviation and aerospace industries through a global network in areas such as:

- airport management
- commercial aviation
- business and general aviation
- banking and leasing
- economic/business consulting
- education and research
- engineering
- finance
- government
- insurance
- international relations
- law
- manufacturing
- media

IAWA SCHOLARSHIPS

IAWA partners with nine colleges and universities around the globe to bring scholarship opportunities to young women studying aviation and aerospace. All nine university partners distinguish their programs by not only focusing on academic excellence in the aviation industry, they also intentionally focus on advancing gender diversity of their students and faculty members through their recruitment and retention.

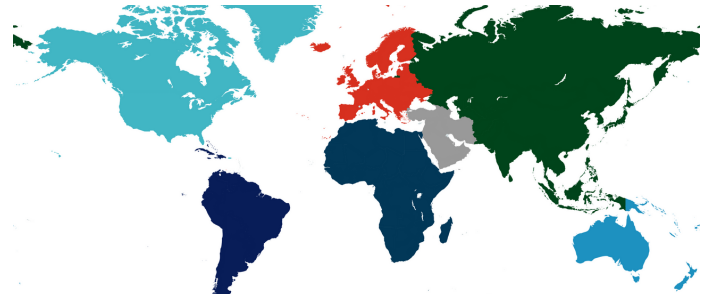

INTERNSHIP & MENTOR PROGRAMS

IAWA provides intermediary support between IAWA member companies offering internship opportunities and potential student or professional applicants in IAWA's network. The Mentoring Program helps young women to see the pathway into aviation as a career; knowing that others are supporting them, and will result in members achieving their goals.

ISTAT FOUNDATION GRANT

The IAWA Mentoring Program was the recipient of a $7,300 grant from the International Society of Transport Aircraft Trading (ISTAT) Foundation to administer the mentoring program by using the Qooper platform.
