

Marita Lintener

Marita Lintener holds a Master's degree in Economics from the University of Bonn and an Executive degree in Advanced Management and Leadership from the University of Oxford, Saïd Business School.

Marita is a certified business coach, mediator and lecturer for project management at the DHBW University Mannheim.

Marita has a proven track record in the aviation industry with more than 30 years of experience. She started her carrier at Deutsche Lufthansa where she worked in a variety of roles and management positions including marketing, product management, sales and strategy, and subsequently at Thomas Cook AG serving as Head of Sales Strategy. Since 2004 Marita has been active as an Executive Consultant and Managing Director of European Aviation Consultancy, working in programmes within the European transportation sector, amongst others in collaboration with the European Commission, European Space Agency, European Defence Agency and Eurocontrol.

Most recently she was engaged for the Deutsche Lufthansa and other major airlines in the SESAR programme as a Senior Adviser. Since 2013 until today, Marita is the chair of the A4 Airlines Strategy Group. In the SESAR Deployment Manager, mandated by the European Commission, she is responsible for the EU – US cooperation on ATM modernization as European co-chair of the US-EU Deployment Coordination Committee.

Having worked with all industry partners along the value chain, Marita advocates the need for adding true value to all stakeholders. She holds an outstanding expertise in the aviation market, the transportation sector, the Single European Sky regulatory framework and on the challenges, risks and opportunities for transport and mobility with respect automation, digitalisation, AI, drone integration and sustainability needs. To enable the power of gender equality and diversity, the promotion of female talents in the aviation & space industry is driving her engagement in IAWA and related voluntary activities.
