

Mylène Scholnick

Mylène is currently a Principal at Amazon, responsible for Aircraft Sourcing and Fleet Strategy within Amazon AIR. Mylene is a seasoned Aviation Executive with 25 years of global experience in Business Development, Asset Management and Re-Marketing, and has worked with ICF, Lenoma LLC, SkyWorks Capital, NetJets, MetroJet in the US and Asia. She combines expertise in commercial and business aviation, with ability to bridge markets and functions.

At ICF, she originated new customers and lead multiple advisory projects, including capital markets, M&A due diligence, and lessors support. At SkyWorks, she was a key player in origination, placement and syndication of transportation structured finance and asset-backed transactions for lessors and airlines including debt, sale-leaseback for hundreds of aircrafts from the Q400 to B747-8F. She succeeded in opening new syndication and origination for the complex fleet financing of major airlines for combined amounts worth more than $3b as well as new startup airlines and contributed to close to $1b of aircraft sales for several airlines. Mylene contributed to NetJets international expansion in Europe and in Asia. She developed and successfully managed all flight and ground operations for Business Aviation leader Metrojet in Hong Kong including AOC, operations, implementation of long-term growth strategy and development of services and participated in key regulatory development in China. Mylene is on the board of ISTAT and the Advisory Board of IAWA.