

Nancy Barber
Senior Executive | Chief Operating Officer
Elsie Award Winner | Canada's Top 100 Most Powerful Women

An aerospace senior executive with over 20 years of in-depth experience, Nancy has held several key positions across Manufacturing, Program Management, Supply Chain and Customer Support. Prior to her departure from Bombardier in 2021 she held the position of Chief Operating Officer, responsible for planning, assembly, and delivery of all business aircraft as well as the industrialization strategy of Bombardier's operational footprint. Previously Nancy held the role of Vice President, Program Management, Global 7500, where she led proactive management of milestones and cost commitments supporting the successful entry into service in 2018, and subsequent ramp up of the largest purpose-built business aircraft world-wide.

Nancy is a passionate promoter of women in aerospace serving as a mentor, coach, and speaker. In 2020, Nancy was named one of Canada's Top 100 Most Powerful Women, and the Northern Lights Aero Foundation awarded her with the Elsie Award in recognition of her outstanding contributions to aviation and aerospace in Canada.
