

Sherry Chaput

As Owner and CEO of Avion Trace Group, Sherry Chaput is equipped with over fifteen years of experience in technical auditing. She has held position titles of Director of Quality and Operations for an aviation group, and Technical Records Manager for a commercial airframe and engine material supply company.

Alongside her team, Sherry performs audit review in back to birth trace paperwork for commercial aircraft sales to help identify inconsistencies and irregularities in back to birth traceability. Working closely with airlines, leasing companies, finance organizations and others involved with aircraft safety, and valuations, Avion Trace Group has helped aircraft owners save millions of dollars in potentially lost aircraft resale value.

Sherry is a member of several industry groups such as ISTAT, ASA, IAWA and GMAA. She has also committed her time and knowledge to the ASA Safety Committee board and contributed to the Guidance Material and Best Practices for Life Limited Parts (LLPs) Traceability for IATA.
